1. Unity

Unity begins with the topic sentence. Each paragraph will have one single idea, which is usually the first sentence of the paragraph. All the supporting sentences get unified around the main idea. So while selecting the topic sentence one has to think about the theme and all the points they want to add and then choose the most relevant one as the topic sentence.

2. Order

Order refers to the way the supporting sentences are organized. One can choose a chronological order, logical order or order of importance. But the reader should be able to follow the paragraph easily. The meaning of a paragraph should be understood by the readers without any confusion or ambiguity.

3. Coherence

Coherence is the quality which makes one's writing understandable. There should be a flow of ideas.

4. Completeness

A well-developed paragraph is called a complete one, if all the sentences clearly support the main idea. The concluding sentence should summarize the main idea.

Now, read a paragraph on 'Oceans and lakes'

Topic Sentence

Oceans and lakes have much in common between them, but they are quite different. Both are bodies of water. Oceans are large bodies of salt water, and they join smaller seas together. They are surrounded by continents. They cover 72% of the earth. Whereas lakes are much smaller bodies of fresh water. Lakes are usually surrounded by land. Both have plants and animals living in them. The ocean is home to a huge variety of sea life including the largest animals on the planet like whales and sharks. But lakes support only smaller forms of life like crabs and prawns. When it is time for a vacation, both make a great place for humans to visit and enjoy.
