15.05 Social Marketing

Social marketing is a new marketing tool. It is the systematic application of marketing philosophy and techniques to achieve specific behavioural goals which ensure social good. For example, this may include asking people not to smoke in public areas, asking them to wear seat belts or persuading them to follow speed limits. The primary aim of social marketing is 'social good' such as anti-tobacco, anti-drug, anti-pollution, anti-dowry, road safety, protection of girl child, against the use of plastic bags. Social marketing promotes the consumption of socially desirable products and develops health consciousness. It helps to eradicate social evils that affect the society and quality of life

15.06 Rural Marketing

Rural marketing is a process of developing pricing, promoting and distributing rural specific goods and services leading to derived exchange with rural customers to satisfy their needs and wants. Rural marketing has got a lot of untapped potential improvement in infrastructure it is supposed to open great opportunities for rural market. Rural marketing is now a two-way marketing process. There is inflow of products into rural markets for production or consumption and there is also outflow of products to urban areas. The urban to rural flow consists of agricultural inputs, fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) such as soaps, detergents, cosmetics, textiles, and so on. The rural to urban flow consists of agricultural produce such as rice, wheat, sugar, and cotton. There is also a movement of rural products within rural areas for consumption

15.07 Service Marketing

A service is any activity or benefit that one party can offer to another which is essentially intangible and which does not result in the ownership of anything like business and professional services insurance, legal service, medical service etc. Service marketing is a specialized branch of marketing. Service marketing denotes the processing of selling service goods like telecommunication, banking, insurance, car rentals, healthcare, tourism, professional services, repairs etc., The service products are mostly intangible, inseparable from service provider and service variable depending on the mood swing of service providers perishable in quick time, unstandardisable and deliverable directly from service provider without inter-median. The unique characteristics of services marketing warrant different strategies compared with the marketing of physical goods
