a path to follow to arrive at our destination, i.e., a goal, both management and organisation must be purposive or goal-oriented.

4. Management is a Social Process:

It is the art of getting things done through other people.

5. Management is a Cyclical Process:

It represents planning-action-control-re-planning cycle, i.e., an ongoing process to attain the planned goals.

1.05 Principles of Scientific Management

In the last century, organizations already had to deal with management in practice. In the early 1900s, large organizations, such as production factories, had to be managed too. At the time there were only few external management tools, models and methods available.

At this juncture, Mr.Frederick Winslow Taylor (F.W.Taylor) brought about a scientific
