will be suitable for the existing vacancies. Based on the credibility of the employee the referrals will be considered.

ii. Government/Public Employment Exchanges – These are exchanges established by Government which facilitates recruitment throughout the country. It makes available the information required through the data base for the employer as well as the job seeker by bridging the gap between them.

iii. Private Employment Agencies – These are similar to Public employment exchanges except that the ownership is the hands of Private parties. It connects the job provider and the job seeker by providing the relevant and required information.

iv. Employment Consultancies – These types of firms facilitate recruitment on behalf of client companies at cost. Usually they provide data relating to executives and top level personnel for which service they charge consultation fees also known as Recruitment Process Outsourcing.

v. Professional Associations – Organisations seeking applicants of high calibre and repute with technical knowledge approach professional associations like Institute of Chartered Accounts, The Indian Medical Association, The Institute of Training and Development, The Institute of Engineers, All India Management Association etc. to identify the right person.

vi. Deputation – A person who is already an employee of an organisation can be deputed for a specific job for a specified period as a short term solution.

vii. Word of mouth – The information relating to job seekers is collected through people of repute who pass on the message about the vacancy to their known people.

viii. Labour Contractors – Organisations recruit unskilled and manual labourers through these contractors.

ix. Job Portals – Using internet job portals organisations can screen for the prospective candidates and fill up their vacancies.

10.04 Recent Trends in Recruitment

The recent methods of recruiting by organisations include the following methods :

1. Outsourcing – There are outsourcing firms that help in the process of recruiting through screening of applications and finding the right person for the job for which job they are paid service charges.

Recruitment Process Outsourcing

2. Poaching – Organisations instead of training and developing their own employees hire employees of other competitive companies by paying them more both financial and non financial benefits. It is also called raiding.

Key Words

Recruitment	Selection	Interview
Procurement	Training	Development
Profession	Unsolicited	Poaching

12th Commerce Unit 4.indd 77 12/12/2020 2:14:44 PM